FOREWORD

Each new edition of THE INTERNATIONAL WHO'S WHO is the result of a complete and thorough revision of its predecessor. Not only are daily records of changes to existing entries maintained, but there is also continuous research directed towards the selection of new names from all over the world for inclusion in future editions. The fruits of this research, which over the past year has been notably concentrated on Poland and the whole of Africa, will be apparent to all who use this new edition and will, we believe, still further enhance the value of THE INTERNATIONAL WHO'S WHO as a source of international biographical reference.

We have made every endeavour to provide our readers with the latest possible information about the people whose names appear in the new edition, and we would once again like to express our thanks to all those who, by completing questionnaires or by correcting proofs sent to them, have enabled us to bring our information up-to-date.

We would particularly like to emphasise the necessity for proofs of entries to be returned to us without delay, as only in this way can we be certain that every entry is as accurate and up-to-date as possible.

August 1959.
